

Texas Home School Coalition
announces that nominations are open for

2009 HOME SCHOOL LEADER OF THE YEAR

To show appreciation and to honor support group leaders in the Texas home school community who sacrificially give of their time and energy to serve home schoolers and to promote home education, the Texas Home School Coalition (THSC) has sponsored Home School Leader Appreciation Week in Texas for the last several years.

In conjunction with Home School Leader Appreciation Week in Texas, THSC has awarded the coveted Home School Leader of the Year award to outstanding leaders. This award is based on testimonies by appreciative members of their groups. The process requires at least three members of the group to send letters in which they document why their leader, either an individual or a couple, should be selected the THSC Home School Leader of the Year.

THSC is now accepting nominations for the 2009 Home School Leader of the Year. The support group leader/couple who is chosen will be invited to and honored at its annual Awards Banquet on April 24, 2009, in Austin. (See www.thsc.org/banquet/Banquet.asp for more information about the banquet.) To nominate a leader, please complete the information below.

Nominations for THSC's Leader of the Year must be received no later than March 20, 2009, accompanied by at least three letters of recommendation from different support group members. Letters of recommendation should explain why this individual/couple should be nominated for Leader of the Year. Only one leader/couple may be nominated per group.

Support Group Leader (individual or couple) to be nominated for THSC Leader of the Year:

Name of support group:

To whom may THSC address any questions that may arise? Please include e-mail (preferred) or phone contact information.
